

WALLSCHLAEGER FAMILY

A BENEFIT TO HELP ONE OF OUR OWN FIGHT ALS

Mark Wallschlaeger has been a Special Agent with the FBI for 17 years and is a member of the Violent Crimes/Fugitive Task Force in the Chicago Office. Mark's wife, Karie, was recently diagnosed with Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis, ALS or more commonly known as Lou Gehrig's disease. Mark and Karie have three children ages 12, 17 and 19 years old. Mark, Karie and their three children are in the process of fighting this battle that not only comes with an emotional burden, but a financial burden as well. The FBI Family and their family and friends have decided to host a benefit in Karie's honor. All proceeds will benefit Mark, Karie, and their children. Our goal is to generate enough interest and money to help the family with the costs of being an ALS patient.
